THE CITY.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

If any coarse, unfeeling feller
Asks the loan of your umbreller,
Tell him it's Lost.

——Punch & Judy to-night.

——Revenue receipts yesterday $361.31

——Large bonnets are preferred to small ones.

——The short skirt is as short behind as before.

——Breton lace jabots and scarfs are all the rage.

——The latest shade of red is the Prince of Wales.

——Both high and low turban caps are fashionable.

——Black chip is the favorite bonnet for all occasions.

——The square obuddah is the favorite breakfast shawl.

——Bengaline is one of the French dress novelty fabrics.

——Shirring is very fashionable on all summer garments.

——Reed green is a new shade of this popular spring color.

——Skirts of short dresses retain their narrow dimensions.

——Trains and demi-trains are no longer seen in the street.

——Gold and gilt trimmings are as vulgarly fashionable as ever.

——Prof. Sautell and his wooden headed jokers. Tom and Joe. A rich treat for ten cents.

——The regular semi-monthly meeting of St. John's Guild will be held this evening at 8½ o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

——A car load of ten tons or 20,000 pounds of Lee's agricultural lime from Richmond, Va., passed through the city yesterday, going to Auburn, N. C., to Mr. George B. Eaniss, one of our most energetic and successful Wake county farmers.

——The kitchen, smoke house and potato house of Kendrick Goodwin of Swift Creek township, one mile east of Asberry was burned on Monday night. Loss about $5,00, supposed work of robbers, who sought to conceal their theft by committing the buildings to flames.

——The jury to set in the Poindexter trial, Richmond, Va., have finally been empannelled. The only witness examined so far, corroborates the statement of Curtis, the murdered man. The jury were to visit, yesterday, the shoe factory, the place where the whipping scene occurred.

——It is a matter of daily surprise that any woman, be she mistress or scullion, should even in housewife by disbabille, fancy that she may without damage to respectability, discard for a single hour this tiny but indispensable adjunct to a decent appearance. The line of pure white pressing the throat, which gives a tasteful finish to a ah lling calico; without it an eight dollar silk dress is dowdyish. The lack of it gives a cast of vulgarity to the most classic face.

PERSONAL.—The session class of Wake Forest College spent yesterday in the city visiting the different places of interest. Some of them visited our office and expressed themselves highly pleased with their visit to the city.

SUDDEN DEATH.—A colored woman, aged 49, named Caroline Headdin, residing in Oberlin, dropped dead in church on Monday night last. Coroner Richardson investigated the matter and found that the woman had been for a long time suffering from disease of the heart. No jury of inquest was deemed necessary under the circumstances.

BE PATIENT.—Commissioner Polk informs us that he is in receipt of a telegram from the contractors to furnish a map of our State for his Hand Book, saying it will be ready in three weeks. The book will then be sent out to the various counties in their alphabetical order. He is receiving applications daily for copies from all quarters.

THE SOUTHERN MUSEUM.—Will open to-night under the Central Hotel. On Thursday and every day after they will give exhibitions from 3:30 to 5 o'clock, exclusively for white ladies and children. This is done at the request of a large number of people who have an aversion to visiting the room and mixing with a miscellaneous crowd. Prof Rogers, the accommodating showman, and all the ladies should go and carry the children. Admission only 10 cents.

MR. J. L. STONE.—The efforts of this young man, who has been doing an extensive Sewing Machine business in this city for the past five or six years, has pushed his business beyond the period of experiment. Mr. Stone is one of the most energetic sewing machine agents in the city. He has sold nearly two hundred machines since the 1st. of January and since he began business his sales have amounted to 3.00) machines which approximates $200.000. He deals in all kinds of machines and sells at the following prices. Singer machine $30. White $33. Wheeler and Wilson $20. American $25

H. Preston & Sons Superphosphate; H. Preston & Sons Acid Phosphate; Rhodes Soluble Superphosphate; Excellenza Cotton Fertilizer; Chappells Champion Ammoniated Superphosphate.

JUSTICE WHITAKER'S COURT.—It was a rainy day Monday in Squire Whitaker's Court. Several matters of a belligerant character were looked into and settled by the Squire.

John Watson, col., assaulted and chastized Monroe Austin, Sunday without the consent of Jackson Austin, the parent.

Watson had no children of his own to slap, and therefore he obeyed the recommendation of the wise man, and flogged another man's "little boy." John left the Magistrate's court a wiser, but a poorer man—he left for school purposes, three dollars, not of the "trade mark" order.

Ginny Evans, with infant in her arms complained that her husband, James Evans, failed to administer to their wants as becometh a man and father.

James was soon under escort and before the Squire. "Your name is James Evans?" "Yes, sir!" "Your wife's name is Virginia Evans?" "Yes, sir!" "You don't feed and care for her and your child?" (A tear came in James' eye, and he was silent.) "Have you any meal, meat, sugar and coffee at home—and a little flour?" "Yes, sir," sobbed James. "Do you want your wife to go home, and will you treat her as you should a wife?" "I will, sir." The law says I may fine you $50 and put you in jail 30 days, said the squire in a fearful tone of sorrow. "Do you, Virginia, desire your husband punished in this way?" "No, sir!" and the tears ran down her cheeks into the face of her sleeping infant—infant squalled, piteously, and the wet eyes of the dusky lookers on, testified much sympathy for the distressed family; and the Squire then and there was assured that the breach was healed, and that peace and plenty would reign in the house of the Evans. James paid the cost and the twain went home.

A little passage at-arms case, of Fayetteville street notoriety, closed the docket. The parties gave bond for their appearance at June Term Wake Superior court.

Your reporter would take this occasion to say, that the last case had nothing to do with the molasses market, or the condition of the street pumps.

Love and folly were at play,
Both too wanton to be wise;
They fell out, and in the fray
Folly put out Cupid's eyes.

Straight the criminal was tried,
Had his punishment assigned;
Folly should to love be tied,
And condemn'd to lead the blind!

Upon the valley's lap
The dewy morning throws
A thousand pearly drops,
To wake a single rose.

Thus often, in the course
Of life's few fleeting years,
A single pleasure costs
The soul a thousand tears.

There is a man named Andrew Clup
To creditors says, "No, sir;"
He always fails to shekel up
His butcher and his grocer.

His ignorance of his debts is gay;
Ah? nothing could be vaguer;
Now, Mr. Clup, you'd better pay
That V you owe to Kroeger.

WORKING MAN.

Oliver vs. Cameron.

ANOTHER OLD RALEIGH MAN BROUGHT IN.

Washington Star.

This morning, before Chief Justice Cartter, in the Circuit Court, the case of Oliver vs. Cameron was resumed. Dr. George Gould testified that he is a minister, and in charge of the Female College at Millersburg, Ky.; is 37 years of age; once lived in Raleigh, and left there in 1852. Don't recollect that his grand-mother, Mrs. Alice Oliver, adopted a girl as a daughter in Raleigh; is certain that plaintiff was never a member of his grandmothers family. In 1854, after his grandmother's family moved from the house on Walnut street, in Louisville, this woman lived there with witness' uncle, T. M. Oliver. Witness' grandmother and family did not visit her. Witness never heard that his grandmother had apopted this woman until he heard it in Washington. Remembered the separation of Oliver and the plaintiff; saw Mrs. Oliver at the same house in 1861. She was then keeping boarders. Remembers the birth of the child, now about 22 years of age; was in Louisville when his uncle attempted to get possession of the child; Mrs. Oliver was then very poor.

Digest of Opinions of the Supreme Court, January Term, 1879.

(Reported for the News by R. T. Gray, Attorney at Law.)

SMITH, C. J.

O'Hara vs. Powell; from Edgecombe.

Where the County Canvassers of Edgecombe rejected certain precinct returns of the votes cast in a Congressional election, and made and sent an abstract of others to the Secretary of State which, with other returns from other counties of the Second District, were afterward passed upon by the State Board of Canvassers and a commission was issued to the person who appeared from the returns to be elected; Held, that a writ of mandamus will not be ordered to issue compelling such Board of County Canvassers to reassemble, revise and recount the returns including those rejected. The matter has passed beyond the point at which a judicial order could change or affect the result. The proper remedy to try the title to an office is the writ of quo warranto and for that remedy the writ of mandamus is a very insufficient substitute. A mandamus will not issue when it will be vain or fruitless or cannot have a beneficial effect or when the court sees that it will ultimately fail, or if it is sought merely to obtain the opinion of the court on a point of law.

SMITH, C. J:

Simpson vs Simpson, from Union.

Where a judgment was obtained against a guardian and his sureties on his guardian bond, and he afterwards received his discharge in bankruptcy, Held, such discharge does not operate to release the principal from the liability of the judgment, it being for a debt owing by him in a fiduciary capacity and expressly excepted in the Bankruptcy act. The sureties, however are released, they being only guarantors of the fidelity of the guardian.

SMITH, C. J:

Haywood, Ex. vs. Haywood, Ex., from Wake, judgment reversed.

Held, where a decree is made for the sale of land by an executor, the act, Battle's Revisal, chap. 45, sec. 68, whether the words are or not mandatory, manifestly contemplates the exercise of the judgment of the court, granting the license, as to the manner, terms and conditions of the sale, and the embodying of the instructions in the order of sale and not that they should be left to the uncontrolled discretion of the representative or commissioner appointed and authorized to make the sale. To this end the court should have sought for information, either by a reference or by the examination of witnesses. Without this the court could not act intelligently and so frame its decree as to make the execution of it "most advantageous" to those interested in the estate.

SMITH, C. J:

Swaine vs McRae, from Brunswick, judgment affirmed.

Held, the office of the writ of mandamus is simply to impose upon an official the execution of a neglected duty affecting the interest or rights of the person applying for it. It cannot be extended to reach conflicting claims to an office and thus usurp the place of that special and ample remedy (quo warranto) which the law prescribes for adjusting and determining them.

ASHE, J.

State vs Jones, from Edgecombe, judgment affirmed.

Held.—Where a juror was challenged by the State after he had been passed to the prisoner, it was not error in his Honor to allow it. The juror, having stated that he had formed and expressed the opinion that the prisoner was not guilty, was not an impartial juror, and without challenge by the State, it was the right and duty of his Honor to stand aside such a juror at any time before he was sworn.

Held also.—That declarations of a third party tending to connect himself with the homicide was properly rejected, it being but hearsay evidence and not disproving the defendant's guilt.

Held, further.—That where the indictment charged that the deceased died on the 26th of December 1878, when it should have been 1877, the defect is expressly cured by the act of 1811.

ASHE. J.

State vs Burns, from Wake.

Where an indictment, under the act of 1873-74 for a sale by a tenant of cotton to which his landlord had a right, does not charge that the lien was in force at the time of the sale or state the person to whom it was sold, the judgment will be arrested for such defect in the bill.

BY ASHE, J.

Williamson vs. Buck et al, from Wake, judgment reversed.

Where the judge, to whom the matters of law and facts were referred, found, "that the horse died while detained by the defendants, who, being wrongdoers, are prima facie liable to the plaintiff for the value or loss occasioned by its taking and detention, and that the burden was on them to prove the cause of the death or to show that it was in no degree attributable to their negligence, nor to the fact that they had taken and were detaining it; and that the defendants had not shown this, on the contrary that the death of the horse was occasioned by his removal out of the possession of the plaintiff, in the country, into the possession of the defendants, in town, and being kept in town, and by the uses to which it was put and the manner in which it was treated and managed," and also found that the horse was worth $125; Held. The finding is too general or indefinite to warrant the conclusion his Honor drew from them. They are not sufficient to raise a legal inference of negligence. Negligence is a mixed question of law and facts. The finding of the facts is a question for the jury, or the court in a case like this, and is conclusive, but whether when found, they constitute a case of negligence is a question of law for the court and reviewable.

ASHE, J.

Earle & Co., vs. Hardie; from Cumberland.

Where a judgment was obtained in 1869, on a debt contracted in November 1867, and execution was issued thereon under which a homestead and personal property exemption was laid off to the judgment debtor, in pursuance of sec. 1 and 2, art. 10 of the Constitution of 1868. Held, that a writ of mandamus will be ordered to issue to a defendant sheriff compelling him to levy upon and sell so much of the personal property of the defendant as is in excess of $500 and if there be no such excess, then to levy upon and sell such real estate owned by the defendant in the judgment at the time of the judgment and not laid off to him as required in the act of Feb. 28th, 1867. The debt being contracted after said act of 1867, the real estate exemption allowed by that act is not unconstitutional, but it must have been sat apart as that act directs. As against that debt, the provisions of sec. 2, art 10 of the constitution of 1868 are void under the decision of Edwards vs. Kearsey in the Supreme court of the United States. But sec. 1 of said article is not void as against the debt, inasmuch as by the said act of February 1867, after which the debt was contracted, the exemption of personal property was more than $500 in value, and the creditor was apprised of the fact that the law allowed such exemptions when the debt was contracted.

DILLARD, J.

Pritchard vs, Askew; from Hertford.

Where land was sold by a Commissioner of this Court and the owner was prevented from attending the sale and bidding for the land, without default of his own, and a fair attendance of bidders was also wanting, and he offers a secured advance bid of ten per cent. Held, that this Court will order a resale to the end that the owner of the land may have the benefit of the excess which may result from another sale under more favorable circumstances and better competition of bidders.

DILLARD, J.

Skinner vs, Badham; from Chowan.

Where a transcript sent to this Court on a former certoriari shows no entry of appeal on the record, no notice of appeal and no bond and no affidavits accompanying it showing that any appeal was taken, this Court will not grant another writ of certiorari but will dismiss the appeal on motion.

DILLARD, J.

Capel et. al. vs. Peebles et. al. from Northampton, appeal dismissed.

Held, an appeal lies only "from an order, or determination of a judge upon, or involving, a matter of law or legal inference, which affects a substantial right claimed in any action or proceeding, or which in effect determines the action and prevents a judgment, from which an appeal might be taken, or discontinues the action, or grants or refuses a new trial." It does not lie from the refusal of the judge to give a judgment the effect of which left the case in the same condition in which it was before the motion was heard.

DILLARD, J.

State vs Byers, from Guilford, venire de novo.

Held.—It was error in his Honor to charge the jury, that if, in view of all the evidence, they should believe and find that the defendant, in alleging an alibi, was guilty of falsehood and misrepresentation as to his whereabouts, such falsehood might be considered additional evidence of his guilt. He should have told the jury what facts constituted the defence of alibi and explained the law arising on the facts as they might find them. The jury could not be expected to respond to the plea of not guilty with any intelligent view of the law or the defendants rights under the law, or their duty as jurors, and it would not be surprising if their verdict, by reason of the omission of the judge, should have been against the defendant when otherwise it might have been in his favor.

Our friend W C Stronach, has topped the climax in this article. He has placed his counter one of Lawis' patented stoves and keeps a constant supply of hot water, cut loaf sugar, cups and spoons, so that the weary have nothing to do but to make and drink a nice cup of tea. We were in yesterday morning but a short time and think at least fifty were served during our stay. This is a great convenience, as it not only enables those wishing to buy to test and try, but it is a great convenience to those coming in early who require a stimulant and do not wish to visit a bar room. Call and try a cup of his Oilong, Imperial, Green or English Breakfast. He will be glad to see you and you will not regret that you went.

The Longevity of Quakers.

INTERESTING FIGURES SHOWING HOW MUCH LONGER THEY LIVE THAN OTHER PEOPLE.

Pall Mall Gazette.

The question of the greater longevity of the members of the Society of Friends than that of the population in which they are placed is of considerable interest, and the citation of some figures throwing additional light on it, may be useful. In addition to the annual tabular statements of the incoming by birth and outgoings by death, valuable facts may be gathered from the working of the assurance company which exists for assuring the lives of Friends and those connected with them. A short time ago an elaborate table was drawn up from all available sources, from which the deduction was made that the mean future lifetime (or expectation of life) at birth was in the case of a male Friend about 45.32 years, the mean among the general public being 40 36. In the case of females the difference was not quite so large—that of the Friend being 45.73, and of the general public 42.16. But the average life of the Quaker is about that of the mean value, it having varied in recent years from slightly over 51 years to 58 years.

A summary and analysis of the age at death of members who have died for more than 30 years show that out of 943 deaths there were 163 of persons under the age of 30 at death, 224 of persons who died between 30 and 60, 517 whose decease occurred between the ages of 60 and 90, and 39 who died at the age of 90 or above, 3 being reputed centenarians. All attainable facts prove that there is a greater longevify among the Quakers than other persons, but there is room for very great speculation as to its causes and as to the probabilities of its continuance. It is far from generally known that the decline in numbers in the Society of Friends has for many years arrrested, and a comparatively rapid rate of growth has been experienced experienced. In 1864 the number of members in Great Britan was 13,755; and for some years the number was not increased by more than half a dozen or so yearly, and that even was an improvement on the decrease that had been known for some years previously. In the decade ending with 1868 there was no addition to the number of members—the deaths outnumbering the births, and the incoming by other methods barely supplying the deficiency. In the decade ending with 1878 the death rate has still been higher than the births, but the influx of members has more than counterbalanced the loss; and thus the total number of members is raised to about 14,600—the increas having been the most marked during the late years.

A Precarious Political Situation.

The Republican to-day says: The almost incredible story is afloat that President Hayes has informally agreed to accept the emasculation of the national election laws as proposed by the Democratic caucus committee. This bastard attempt at a "compromise" is elsewhere described in full in these columns, and has received instant and utter condemnation in Republican circles as soon as its terms have been made known. For this reason the rumors of its acceptance by the President are characterized as incredible; but it appears from the manner and talk of the Democratic leaders that they have much better assurance of final success in their efforts to abrogate all law against fraud in our national elections than they had a few days ago. The rumor receives further incidental or circumstantial confirmation in the fact that Senator Lamar and other prominent misnamed conservative leaders of the ever-to-be-regretted period of bogus Conciliation have been frequent visitors at the Executive Mansion lately. Of course the assumption that their business in those visits related to political questions is based upon a simple surmise; but the political atmosphere is in such an excited condition that it is sufficient to creat doubt. The assumption is, in turn, confirmed by a story that President Hayes, Secretary Evarts, Senator Bayard, and Representative Springer have been nominated in consultation lately regarding the threatened dead-lock between Congress and the Executive, the result of which has been Mr. Springer's modification of the Democratic caucus proposition. This story is flatly contradicted by certain friends of the Administration—a contradiction which every true Republican will ardently hope to see sustained.

Tilden's Candidacy.

Philadelphia Times.

Conversation with Democratic members of the Legislature on the subject of Presidency develops the well-suspected fact that Mr. Tilden already has substantial control of the delegation from Pennsylvania in the next National Convention. Many gentlemen of prominence in the party lament this situation of affairs in the candor of a confidential interview express their decided preferences for other suggested candidates, but with one voice they assert that the popular feeling in the carty is in favor of Mr. Tilden so decidedly that it is out of the question to make a successful movement for any one else. I have received within the last three or four weeks the views at length of probably twenty intelligent and influential Democrats in both branches of the Legislature and your readers will doubtles be interested to look over the memoranda of these interviews.

M. Hugo de Koppenfels writes from Eloby, Gorisco Bay, a little to the north of the French Gaboon colony, that he has been exploring the country during several weeks of pouring rain. He ascended the Muni, the Nova, the Balinji and the Tambuni to the first falls. In the Crystal mountains he fell in with tribes absolutely unknown up to the present, or who at least had not been seen by whites, with rare exception the Elemo, the Manga, the Otonto and the Toko. These people are scattered in the middle of the Fans or Pahouins and the Osszeba, but speak languages different from those of the two latter. The idioms have much resemblance to that of the Shekiani and the Balinji,

These people, M. Koppenfels tells us, are very inoffensive; they regarded him as a curious animal and had a certain fear of him. They tried to render him service, and were much less importunate in their mendicity than the other negroes of that coast. When he asked them to accompany him into the interior, they agreed with a certain enthusiasm, assuring him that the people he would meet with were not wicked. They are frightfully poor and much weaker than the Osszebas. They are obliged to give up planting on account of the ravages of elephants and gorillas, which are very numerous and daring. Not a single night passed, M. Koppenfels states, that he did not hear these animals ravaging around the villages, which are, for the most part, very large. As soon as the animals are known to be near, the whole village is on foot endeavoring to frighten them away by shooting.

In these nocturnal expeditions, in which the explorer took part, he noticed that the head-man of the village addressed a speech to the elephants, and that in this speech his own name was pronounced. He was told that the elephants were threatened to be handed over to him, and that if they did not fly at once they would be visited on the morrow and the white man would kill them. If the elephant seizes a plant with its trunk, the people immediately raise a dreadful, plaintive howling, and the principal orator addresses, in a lamentable voice, supplications to the enormous brute.

The Era of Pretty Women in London.

From the World.

A good friend of mine declared the other night that he did not believe the state of morals in fashionable life was ever so slow as it is to-day. We have now entered upon the "pretty-woman" era, money itself being less sought after than beauty. If a man chances to have a pretty wife, all doors are open to him—he can go anywhere, although, to be sure, he does not count for much when he does go.

There are about half a dozen beauties now in London already to begin the season—married beauties, mind you, for bread and butter misses are no longer in fashion. The pretty married women are ever so much more piquant. The knowing people who want to form a set of acquaintance in the exclusive circle, get these pretty ladies to their houses—all the men soon follow. Of course stories get about—how can one help that? People will talk, and a page of your paper would not contain all the scandalous tittle tattle that goes from one house to another. A pretty, woman mania in a community is sure to be attended with disadvantages of that kind. But who cares? Not the pretty women apparently. Not their husbands; The keynote of the season has been struck, and it is a popular one.

Ask all the good looking young married women whom you can scrape acquaintance with to your house. Get six of them to dinner on one evening. Let them be dressed in the height of the mode, which is rather low. Ask a few of your male friends (all to the best ton, be it well understood) to drop in after dinner. They will drop in fast enough. The word will soon reach far and wide that your parties are the best in London, and half the aristocracy will be begging for your invitations.

The Latest Phase of the Decoration Rage.

From the Home Journal.

There is quite a rage in London for decorating rooms for receiving visits, like the studio of a painter. Velvets, stuffs and silks of the last century, old tapestry, etc., are worth their weight in silver, and are become quite fashionable; it is found that dark dresses look well and gain brilliancy, or stand out well, as I believe artists say, on the ground of the rooms thus adorned. The rich faded old draperies and stuffs are adroitly hung over sofas, screens, pianos, and adapted to the walls; old china, vases, and everything in the way of what we call bibelots, or nickbacks, are quite prominent features in the reception rooms. Pianos are now no longer placed against the wall, but turned into a corner, draped with old Henri II. embroidered velvet, or Louis XV. silk, held up by a Japanese or China vase, and the person seated at the instrument faces the public. As this fashion has been gradually increasing for the last ten years, France, Italy and Spain have been ransacked of these old textures, and now the Lyons and Paris manufacturers are all combining imitations of old stuffs.

THE WATER WAYS OF THE EAST.

Raleigh Observer.

Comparatively few persons at this day appreciate the advantages which the water-ways of the east have been to the people of that division of the State; and the amount of wealth and development for the entire State to be credited to this system of transportation will never be approximated. It may be safely said that we owe all we are as a State and a people to our waterways. Our internal improvement system had its birth and growth among the coast people of North Carolina, and it has been prosecuted to the present point of its success mainly on the contributions of the wealthy and tax-paying counties of the East, for it is to be observed that increase of wealth and development in the middle and western portions of the State have followed along in the wake of our internal improvement progress, which began in the coast country.

MONEY must be in demand, says the Journal of Commerce, at much higher figures ere long, probably before January next. The balance of trade cannot forever remain as it is; the exports must fall off unless the imports are largely increased.

THE women of California propose to hold a mass meeting in support of the new constitution of that State. The anti-Chinese features are the ones that command the heartiest support of the women. The best ladies of the Pacific slope are the most earnest in their portest against the influx of Asiatic vileness.

A FAMINE next year in Russia is predicted by Russian journals. Last year about one-third of the crop was destroyed by beetles and marmots, so that the seed has been deficient; and the cattle plague took off nearly ninety per cent. of the cattle in many places. To these things must be added the extraordinary drought of the past half year.

TERRIBLE prairie fires recently occurred in Republic and Cloud counties, Kansas, extending over an area of ten miles long and three wide. About one hundred homes were consumed, and large quantities of grain, farm implements, etc. The inhabitants took refuge in dugouts and underground habitations. But one life is reported lost—Mrs. Brewerson—who was burned to death while attempting to release some horses from a burning stable. The loss is estimated at $40,000.

MARSHAL MacMahon refuses to accept a pension, and it is now discovered that the splendors of his administration were defrayed out of his own private fortune. The large salary paid to him as President of the republic was devoted to another purpose entirely. It was placed at the disposal of the Marshal's wife for distribution among the poor of Paris. Mr. Hayes has not begun to distribute his salary in this way, but there is no telling what may happen. Example, like measles, is catching.

TRAMPS will give Georgia a wide berth if the proposed tramp act becomes a law. It makes it the duty of all male citizens, as well as of State, county and municipal officers, to arrest such offenders summarily and take them before a justice of the peace or other judicial officer for trial. A provision compelling the justice to sentence all tramps to the workhouse would add to the effectiveness of the statute.

CALIFORNIA is the first State that has undertaken to place railroad pooling and freight discriminations under the ban of the fundamental law. The new constitution, which will soon be submitted to the people, contains clauses expressly designed to make those practices impossible, in order that competition in transportation may be left free. Provision is also made for a State Railway Commission, with power to establish rates generally supervise the operations of railroad and other transportation companies of the State. The incidental authority necessary to make this power effectual, such as the right to examine books, take testimony, hear and determine complaints, issue subpœnas and apply to the courts for enforcement of decisions and correction of abuses, are also conferred.

THERE appears to be no relief from the prolonged business depression in England, and some of the most conservative journals can no longer disguise their fears of what may follow, though they try to allay apprehension of the public mind. The Pall Mall Gazette, a paper that ever expresses itself cautiously and is thoroughly conservative, says: "It would be useless to remain silent longer respecting the uneasy feeling that exists in the city." After referring to the financial pulse in Lombard street, and to the fact that names of institutions of high standing have been made free with in a manner to alarm those who easily lose their heads, and after endeavoring to smooth down the bristling difficulties, it admits that "trade generally is notoriously depressed." Then it warns the people that under this state of things, and in the present temper of the public mind, a scare can be got up easily. England is in the artificial condition that she depends upon foreign and colonial trade to keep business alive and her people from starving. During several years this trade was stimulated by unusual circumstances and advantages, but, as with all such periods of excitement, the reaction comes and brings prostration. A fever in the commercial world is like a fever to the human body. The period of inflated business in England has collapsed, and there appears to be no probability of any revival hereafter, for other countries are both suffering themselves and entering into competition with the British in the markets of the world. True, England has wonderful reserved resources. Still, the cloud that hangs over her may burst at any time. It would be well, therefore, if our merchants and bankers were to watch the signs of the times and be prepared for anything that may occur.

Zeb. Vance.

Washington Capitol.

Zebulon B. Vance of North Carolina is the greatest man in that State, except Matt. Ransom, his colleague, about whom the mothers teach the children in the chatechism. Zeb. can tell the best story and make the best speech in North Carolina, and then he was the very best war governor in all the South, having kept the North Carolina troops in better trim than the quota of any other State, and inspired them to fight so well that it was thought their heels were covered with patriotic tar just to make them stick on the battle-field longer than anybody else. He is a shrewd and keen politician, whom few can match in debate or intrigue, but withal a man of hardy honesty, patriotic and true, whose electioneering habits are a mixture of vulgarity and good nature, and somewhat a foil to his high education and powerful charter.

Another Deluge Coming.

Louisville Courier Journal.

A Belgian professor has published a work entitled "Periodic.te des Grands Deluges Resultant du Mouvement Gradual de la Ligne des Aspides de la Terre," in which he warns us that we may be on the lookout for another deluge of the world. At certain regularly recurring intervals, he maintains, the waters of one hemisphere are suddenly precipitated across the equator and flood the other. The last of these deluges, which always flow from north to south, or from south to north, was that of Noah's time, which was from the north. Hence the explanation of the great preponderance of water in the southern hemisphere, and of the general southern trend of North and South America, Africa, and many minor peninsulas. The next of these deluges will flow from the south to the north. The course, he argues, is the alternate increase and decrease in the ice-caps at the poles, and the consequent change of the earth's equilibrium. Since 1248 the South Pole has been continually enlarging, while the North Pole has been proportionately diminishing, to-day the diameter of the southern glacier being about 3,000 miles and that of the northern 1,500. When the two glaziers shall have arrived at their maximum and minimum extension, then will the earth tilt over and be submerged by another great flood, the fifteenth of the kind that has occured. In view of this impending and somewhat serious probability, the question arises: What are we going to do about it? If no one can offer a better suggestion, would it not be advisable that each of us resolve himself into his own ark by wearing night and day one of Paul Boyton's rubber swimming costumes?

Extracts from our Washington Letter.

It is foreshadowed now that Congress will go into general legislation.

ALEXANDER STEPHENS,

who is noted for being a clear thinker and somewhat of a political prophet, says the country needs more legislation at once, and if Congress adjourns without giving the country what it most needs and demands in the way of necessary and judicious legislation the Democratic party will be held responsible before the people who will repudiate the action of members who oppose it at the ballot box next year.

EVERETT'S PRAYER FOR RELIEF.

The memorial presented to the President by State Senator Everett, of North Carolina, and signed by twenty-seven white and negro members of the legislature, representing thirty counties and forty thousand voters of the Republican party in that State, sets forth the following reasons and feelings of the Southern people who put their States under the control of carpet baggers: When the true Southern Republicans asked that they might be allowed to control the honors and emoluments of the party, they discovered that were the incentives that governed the recent Northern settler in all that he did and said from a political standpoint. This drove Southern Republicans of any pride, ambition or aspirations from the party or caused them to be silent in a political contest. When the present administration came into power it found the party in the hands of Northern adventurers and a few Southern Sycaphants who had the aprobation of the carpet-bagger by their desertion of their own section and by their silence imbecility and cowardice. When the intellect, pride, heart and hope of the South were being despoiled and crushed by the

PELF AND PLACE

POLITICAL FREEBOOTERS

of the North, the United States District Attorney, Assistant District Attorney and U. S. Marshal of the Western District of North Carolina and the collectors of internal revenue having been appointed to their positions years ago by President Grant, and since their appointment, the party having been defeated in their immediatiate counties and districts until it is utterly without organization. These men having been trusted leaders of the party and also having under them many worthless deputies, their names are inseperably associated in the public mind with the scandal, corruption, and overthrow of the party in South Carolina, and Louisana and they are held by our people responsible for the present condition of the Republican party in North Carolina. They are regarded as ciphers in the party, impotent to build up, but powerful to pull down.

A BRIGADE OF OFFICE SEEKERS AROUND THE SENATE AND HOUSE.

The oldest inhabitants at Washington declare they never have seen as many persons here before seeking office. Senators and members are besieged day and night by the earnest entreaties of these individuals for office; and strange to say most of them want a fat, place nothing under a two thousand dollar place is desirable. A large number of old broken down political hacks of State legislatures and Congress and ex-State officers swell the list to an enormous extent. North Carolina, Virginia and Texas are said to have more representatives in this line than any other State. Senators have become completely by the continual annoyance of this class of persons. We heard of a Senator the other day who had been so constantly besieged by two ex-members of Congress for a position that he told them he would have to get two single beds and have them put up in his room so that each one could always be equal to the other in point of monopolizing his time.

WORRIED OUT AND SOURED

Senator Ransom who is one of the most pleasant and amiable of men has been so much annoyed in this way, and his desire to help every one, that he is almost sick.

VANCE ALIKE GOOD NATUREDEY

laughs and tells them that he is a new horse in the Senatorial harness and does not know much about getting office. The railroad agents are preparing half rate tickets for the special benefit of disappointed office seekers to get out of the city. A congressional delegation last night had to raise a pony purse among themselves to get twenty-five men home who had come here with the hope of getting into something.

JNO. CRAMER AFTER 3RD. AUDITORSHIP.

John T. Cramer, of Thomasville North Carolina who is at present employed as a treasury clerk is working a strong move on Hayes and Sherman for the position of third Auditor of the treasury to fill the vacancy occasioned by the promotion of Judge Austin. Indications to-day point to Cramers success.

DISSATISFIED NORTHERN SENATORS.

It is freely talked to-day around the hotels that there is a serious disaffection among the Northern Senators about the electing of officers last Thursday. They say the South and West have taken everything in the way of offices and left them entirely out. It is now proposed to make the Senate Postmaster an elected office and give them a chance at that, but what's the use, the South and West have the votes against them and there are a half dozen Southern men here now applying for it.

MR. JONES, of Caldwell County North Carolina is said to be an applicant for the place whilst the deputy's position is already filled by a South Carolina man.

RANDALL AND TIDEN UNDERSTAND EACH OTHER.

In the House caucus last week Chalmers introduced a resolution which was carried, requiring Randall to appoint his committees as soon as practicable. It was understood between Randall and Tilden at their late caucus at Gramarcy Park, before the meeting of Congress that in the event Randall was elected speaker he was not to appoint but one committee at present and hold the others in obeyance until December, during which time it would give the two schemes a chance to set up the pins for the coming fight for next year. It is said here in news circles that if Tilden cannot get the nomination for President he wants Randall to have it and will throw his influence in that direction and at the same time Randall must use the Speakership to the best advantage for the pool of Tilden and Randall. "What, always?"

OLD STATE AND NATIONAL BANKS.

Border Review.

There is no objection made to banking, but the view is held that it should be free to all, as other occupations or professions. Any citizen should have the right to lend for interest what belongs to him, but no class of citizens should be incorporated and use the good name or credit of government for their exclusive benefit.

The old State Banks professed to lend money, but they really held their money idle in their vaults—when they had it there—and loaned to the people from three to five times what they professed to own, thus taking from eighteen to thirty per cent on the representative of what they really possessed. The bestowal of corporative privileges gave them the right to lend to the people, not money, but what they owned in the shape of paper notes.

A WORD ABOUT FERTILIZERS.

Wilmington Star.

Whilst on the subject of fertilizers, it may not be amiss to say a word about the cotton crop. It pays unquestionably to use fertilizers, but the right sort must be used—that which is adapted to the soil. But our farmers should be careful not to make too much cotton to the exclusion of other crops. The prospect for a large crop is said to be good. At any rate, the prospect is that the South will make as large a crop as did last year, possibly larger, and it is well known that very large crops do not fetch the most money. Such has been the experience of the South since the war. The Mail says:

THURMAN IS RIGHT.

Wilmington Sun.

We must take no backward step. The circumstances of our surroundings demand that we shall stand up manfully and boldly for every principle which gives vitality to our political organization. Judge Thurman is right in his position. For the principle's sake, we would beg our Representatives to make the fight, at whatever cost, for every principle in its entirely.

A DAMNING ARRAY.

Wilmington Review.

It is too true that in the minds of many Northern people, the South is a Nazareth from which no good can possibly come, and when the news of an isolated instance of crime reaches them, which has been pertetrated South of the Mason and Dixon line, there is a confirmation of their belief. They will not, nor do they wish to, look into the record of crime in their own Northern cities. Should they do so, they would find that in some of the more populous of them, there would be a dark and damning array to confront them.

Hidden Treasure.

A REMINISENCE OF GUERRILLA WARFARE—$65,000 IN GOLD AND SILVER UNEARTHED.

Correspondence Cincinnati Enquirer.

MARROW BONE, Cumberland Co., March 18.—During the last week a sensation of considerable interest came to the surface. It was nothing more or less than the discovery and recovery of a vast amount of gold, silver, and precious stones which have been buried since the beginning of the war in a small cave on the farm of Robert O. Willis, one mile south of this town. The treasure consisted of about $55,000 in gold and silver coin, and about $10,000 (present value) of jewelry, such as diamond rings, pins, earrings, etc. It appears that Mr. Willis placed all of these valuables in an old sugar-kettle, which he buried in the extreme end of the cave, covering it over with boards, and loose rock from the side of the cave. His wife alone he informed in regard to the precise spot where the treasure had been secreted. Of course it would have been very imprudent to have imparted such an important secret to any other person or persons.

A few weeks after secreting all this treasure, Mr. Willis mysteriously disappeared. It is supposed he was killed by guerrillas on the Cumberland River, whither he had gone with several head of cattle to ship to Nashville. He was never heard of afterward, and his wife mourned for him up until the day of her death, which occurred last Saturday, March 1. Although she was well aware that there was a vast fortune buried in that cave, yet she did not impart her secret to any person, and, having a good income from the farm, had no particular need of any of the money, so she thought she would let it remain there, as it was fully as safe as it could be elsewhere. Grief over the loss of her husband, and having poor health combined, rendered her somewhat careless and indifferent. She lived all alone with an old negro man and his wife as her servants and companions. They were old slaves,—belonged to her father,—had nursed her in her infancy, and she was perfectly content. She had no children or near relatives, and a few days before death claimed her as his own, she imparted the secret of the hidden treasure to those old servants, also to the Rev. John D. Hogan, her pastor, and Messrs. Owsley & Gore, her attorneys, summoned to execute her last will and testament. The treasure was found according to directions, all safe and sound and in first-class condition, and it was opened in her presence. She bequeathed her jewelry and $40,000 to her old servants, also the old homestead, a rich farm of some 200 acres. The remainder she ordered to be invested in securities for her husban's benefit, should he turn up alive in twenty years. If not, that it be donated to Catholic charitable institutions that may be greatly in need of it at that time, in Louisville, Ky., the interest to be given from now on yearly to the orphan asylums there. This vast treasure was taken to Glasgow Ky., yesterday, and shipped from there to Louisville, where it will be deposited for the present with the Safe Deposit Company. The old colored servants who are thus abundantly rewarded for their devotion expressed the wish that their portion of the treasure be invested for them, as they did not wish to keep it in the house, fearing they would be murdered for it. I forgot to mention that Mrs. Willis bequeathed $1,000 to her home paper the Glasgow (Ky) Times, which, she asserts in her will, was a source of great comfort to her in her sorrow, bringing weekly news from her old home in Barren County, Ky., and thus, for once in the history of the times, a newspaper is kindly remembered in "a last will and testament."

Vegetine

FOR

CHILLS, SHAKES,

FEVER AND AGUE.

TARBORO, N. C., 1878.

DR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Der Sir,—I feel very grateful for what your valuable medicine, Vegetine, has done in my family. I wish to express my thanks by informing you of the wonderful cure of my son; also, to let you know that Vegetine is the best medicine I ever saw for Chills, Shakes, Fever and Ague. My son was sick with measles in 1873, which left him with Hip-joint disease. My son suffered a great deal of pain, all of the time; the pain was so great he did nothing but cry. The doctors did not help him a particle, he could not lift his foot from the floor, he could not move without crutches. I read your advertisement in the "Louisville Courier-Journal," that Vegetine was a great Blood Purifier and Blood Food. I tried one bottle, which was a great benefit. He kept on with the medicine, gradually gaining. He has taken eighteen bottles in all, and he is completely restored to health, walks without crutches or cane. He is twenty years of age. I have a younger son, fifteen years of age, who is subject to chills. Whenever he feels one coming on, he comes in, takes a dose of Vegetine and that is the last of the Chill. Vegetine leaves no bad effect upon the system like the most of the in dieines recommended for Chills. I cheerfully recommend Vegetine for such complaints I think it is the greatest medicine in the world.

Respectfully, MRS. J. W. LLOYD.

VEGETINE.—When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from change of weather or of climate, want of exercise, irregular diet, or from any other cause, the Vegetine will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, and impart a tone of vigor to the whole body.

Vegetine has restored thousands to health who had been long and painful sufferers.

VEGETINE

Druggists' Testimony.

Mr. H. R. Stevens:—

Dear Sir,—We have been selling your remedy; the Vegetine for about three years, and take pleasure in recommending it to our customers, and in no instance where a blood purifier would reach the case, has it ever failed to effect a cure, to our knowledge. It certainly is the ne plus ultra of renovators.

Respectfully,

Sanford's Series Analytical Arithmetics

AND

Worcester's Dictionary

Sanford's Series comprises four books, and is based upon the analytic system:

Sanford's First Lessons in Analytical Arithmetic, 16 mo., 27 cents.

Sanford's Intermediate Analytical Arithmetic, 16mo., 234 pp. Half bound, 45 cents.

Sanford's Common School Analytical Arithmetic, 253 pp. half roan, 80 cents.

Sanford's Higher Analytical Arithmetic. 8vo., 419 pp. half roan. Cloth sides, $1.25.

The definitions are clear, and the analyses exhaustive. The work is practical, and abounds in slate exercises. The experience of a large number of the best teachers in this country, is that, with Sanford in hand, pupils discover an unwonted enthusiasm in studying the science of numbers.

The Complete Series of Worcester's Dictionaries.

Quarto Dictionary. Illustrated and Unabridged. Library sheep, $10.

Octavo (Universal and Critical,) Dictionary. Library sheep, $4.25.

Academic Dictionary. Crown 8vo. Half roan, $1.85.

Comprehensive Dictionary, Illustrated, 12 mo Half roan, $1.75.

School (Elementary) Dictionary. 12mo, Half roan, $1.

Primary Dictionary. Illustrated 16mo. Half roan, 60 cents.

Pocket Dictionary. Illustrated 24mo Cloth 63 cents; roan, flexible, 85 cents, roan, tucks, gilt edges, $1.

Many special aids to students, in addition to a full pronouncing and definitive vocabulary, make the above-named books, in the opinion of our most distinguished educators, the most complete as well as by far the cheapest Dictionaries of our language.

Worcester's School Dictionaries are based upon the quarto, which is preferred over all others by eminent scholars and men of letters. The series is admirably adapted to use in Schools, Academies, &c.

Liberal terms for introduction. We desire that Sanford and Worcester be examined by County Boards and principals of private schools. Correspondence solicited.

We invite attention of Teachers to Chauvenet's Mathematics, Cutter's Physiology; in a word, all our School publications. Circulars and descriptive catalogue furnished on application.

VEST POCKET CURE
25 DYSPEPSIA 25
CLERGY & DOCTORS TESTE.

It is an excellent corrective of indigestion I have used it with prompt beneficial results.

Rev. Dr. Mangum, Prof. Univ. of N. C.

I concur with Bishop Doggett in his estimate of the Vest Pocket Cure.

Rev. Drs. Jeter, Broaddus, Dickinson, (Bap.)

It is endorsed by the direct personal testimony of men of national fame and strictness of speech. It is not too much to say that no medicine ever had such support in its favor as a specific. The word of any one of the eminent divines who underwrite this antidote to dyspepsia has deserved weight. Their united witness joined with the experimental use and approval of the preparation by well-known physicians, removes all doubt. It is beyond question, a wonderful therapentical agent.—Edit rs Religious Herald, Va.

Chaplain Randolph Macon College, Va.

Many cases of Dyspepsia within my knowledge have been cured by it. Cramps, Colics, Headaches, and all sorts of pain from indigestion yield promptly to it. The cures of this sort are unanimous rable.

Rev. R. L. Dabney, L. L. D. Ham. Sid. Col., Va.

It is highly esteemed here by the regular Medical Faculty and the people. It is excellent for indigestion and flatulent Colic, sedative, soporific, tonic, slightly aperent, without nausea.

Rev. B. F. Woodward, P. E., Na. Conf,

About twelve years I suffered from Dyspepsia. Failing in with this remedy, I gave it a fair trial. After its use I could eat anything with impunity. I am sure I am indebted to this medicine for what of health and physical comfort I have had for the last sixteen years, I have known many since to be relieved by its use.

Rev Robert W. Watts, A. M., Va.

I have used the mixture in my family for years, and have taken it for a Dyspepsia Colic, which threatened my life, and was cured, eating any diet without hurt. I have recommended it to other sufferers with happiest results. It is the best tonic and corrective I ever knew. For protration from Dyspepsia or Liver Disease it is invaluable.

J. D. Eggleston, M. D., Va.

It is a highly valuable remedy, and is more extensively used than any single article in the whole list of medicines, so far as I observed in my practice, for all the complaints of families from indigestion, I use it and recommend it.

Editor Richmond Christian Advocate.

This remedy is of great virtue. I have seen Dyspepsia cured completely by it. It seems to be an antidote to our "Nation Disease." The ingredients are not kept by the apothecaries, and have been difficult to get.

DAILY NEWS

WEDNESDAY, - MARCH 26, 1879

The True Heaven.

From Harper's Monthly.

The bliss for which our spirits pine,
That bliss we feel shall yet be given—
Somehow, in some far realm divine,
Some marvellous state we name a heaven—

Is not the bliss of languorous hour,
A glory of calm, measured range,
But life which feeds our noblest powers
On wonders of eternal change.

A heaven of action freed from strife,
With ampler ether for the scope
Of an immeasurable life,
And an unbaffled, boundless hope;

A heaven wherein all discords cease,
Self-torment, doubt, distress, turmoil,
The core of whose majestic peace
Is God-like power of tireless toil—

Toil without tumult, strain, or jar,
With grandest reach of range indued
Unchecked by even the farthest star
That trembles through infinitude.

In which to soar to higher heights
Through widening ethers stretched abroad,
Till in our onward, upward flights,
We touch at last the feet of God.

Time swallowed in eternity!
No future evermore, no past,
But one unending, Now to be
A boundless circle round us cast.

PAUL H. HAYNE.

Diamonds, Cherries, Kisses.

A million little diamonds
Twinkled on the trees,
And all the little maidens said,
"A jewel, if you please."
But, while they held their hands outstretched
To catch the diamonds gay,
A million little sunbeams came
And stole them all away.
—Marquis of Lorne.

A million bright red cherries
Hanging on the trees,
And all the little urchins said,
"Oh! ain't they just the cheese?"
But, while they held their hands outstretched
To catch the cherries red,
The good old father's dog appeared,
And the little urchins fled.
—New York Express.

A million soft, sweet kisses
Beneath the spreading trees,
And still she whispered softly,
"Go on, dear, if you please!"
But, while I held her hand in mine
And clasped her closer yet,
A policeman stole upon us
And ordered us "to get!"
—Boston Post.

A Man of Family.

St. Louis Republican.

"I am come from Ole Virginia, that's where I was born and raised, sar," was what Joseph Ray, a colored veteran who lives in Carondelet, said yesterday to a Republican reporter. Joseph has a history which will perhaps be of interest. He is now 74 years of age, but hale and hearty, and declares his ability to live at least twenty years more but nevertheless is in a constant state of preparation for his departure for another world in case he has made a mistake in his calculations. He is now the husband of his fifth wife and the father of thirty-one legitimate children, the oldest and youngest both living, and he thinks a score at least of the others. The oldest child is now 40 years of age, and the youngest but 5 months. He says he expects to have at least one more wife and add six children to his family, making a grand total of forty, and when that is accomplished to apply for a pension the balance of his life.

Fresh Anecdote of Mary Anderson.

Mary Anderson was very young when she first went on the stage, and perfectly inexperienced, for she had no guide save her inborn talent and intuition for the profession. Well, one day she was rehearsing the part of Juliet, and her mother, who was present, noticed that her utterance was somewhat indistinct. For a time we could not tell what was the matter, but presently the following conversation, which explained all, took place:

Mother—Mary, my love, come here.

Mary (from balcony)—What is it ma?

Mother—Bring me that piece of chewing-gum you have in your mouth, and let me hold it for you.

The Celebrated Lithia Waters.

These celebrated lithia waters have grown into such general use as an unfailing remedy in cases of dyspepsia, headache, kindney complaints of all kinds, etc., that there is not a first class drug store in the land that is not compelled to keep it to supply the constantly increasing demand. It is standard because reliable. Ask your druggist for it. *

THE GENUINE

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver.

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure; sometimes the pain is in the left side; the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side; sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness; the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax; the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged.

AGUE AND FEVER

DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results. No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine. We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL.

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated.

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impression DR. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C. McLANE and FLEMING BROS. on the wrappers.

Insist upon having the genuine DR. C. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh, Pa., the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation.

LIVER

This important organ weighs but about three pounds, and all the blood in a living person (about three gallons) passes through it at least once every half hour, to have the bile and other impurities strained or filtered from it. Bile is the natural purgative of the bowels, and if the Liver becomes torpid it is not separated from the blood, but carried through the veins to all parts of the system, and in trying to escape through the pores of the skin, causes it to turn yellow or a dirty brown color. The stomach becomes diseased, and Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, Biliousness, Jaundice, Chills, Malarial Fevers, Piles, Sick and Sour Stomach, and general debility follow. MERRELL'S HEPATINE, the great vegetable discovery for torpidity, causes the Liver to throw off from one to two ounces of bile each time the blood passes through it, as long as there is an excess of bile; and the effect of even a few doses upon yellow complexion or a brown dirty looking skin, will astonish all who try it—they being the first symptoms to disappear. The cure of all bilious diseases and Liver complaint is made certain by taking HEPATINE in accordance with directions. Headache is generally cured in twenty minutes, and no disease that arises from the Liver can exist if a fair trial is given.

LUNGS

The fatality of Consumption or Throat and Lung Diseases, which sweep to the grave at least one-third of all death's victims, arises from the Opium or Morphine treatment, which simply stupefies as the work of death goes on. $10,000 will be paid if Opium or Morphine, or any preparation of Opium, Morphine or Prussic Acid, can be found in the GLOBE FLOWER COUGH SYRUP, which has cured people who are living to-day with but one remaining lung. No greater wrong can be done than to say that Consumption is incurable. GLOBE FLOWER COUGH SYRUP will cure it when all other means have failed. Also, Colds, Cough, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat and lungs. Read the testimonials of the Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, Gov. Smith and Ex-Gov. Brown of Ga., Hon. Geo. Peabody, as well as those of other remarkable cures in our book, free to all at the drug stores, and be convinced that if you wish to be cured you can be by taking the GLOBE FLOWER COUGH SYRUP. Take no Troches or Lozenges for Sore Throat, when you can get GLOBE FLOWER SYRUP at same price. For sale by all Druggists.

BLOOD

Grave mistakes are made in the treatment of all diseases that arise from poison in the blood. Not one case of Scrofula, Syphilis, White Swelling, Ulcerous Sores and Skin Disease, in a thousand, is treated without the use of Mercury in some form. Mercury rots the bones, and the diseases it produces are worse than any other kind of blood or skin disease can be. DR. PEMBERTON'S STILLINGIA OR QUEEN'S DELIGHT is the only medicine upon which a hope of recovery from Scrofula, Syphilis and Mercurial diseases is reasonably founded, and the only sure Cancer. $10,000 will be paid by the proprietors if Mercury, or any ingredient not purely vegetable and harmless can be found in it.

Congress.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—SENATE—The committe on Privileges and Elections by a strict party vote to-day, adopted a resolution declaring Charles H. Bell not entitled to a seat in the Senate under a recent appointment of the Governor of New Hampshire, there being in the judgment of a majority of the committee no such vacancy as may constitutionally be filled by Governor Saulsbury, and Bailey will prepare a report for presentation to the Senate on behalf of the majority and Hoar and Cameron, of Wisconsin, are to present in writing the views of the minority. The majority take the ground that a gubernatorial appointment is not valid except when a vacancy has been created by death or otherwise after actual election of Senator by the Legislature. The minority contend that an "original vacancy" can be filled in the same manner as any other and allege that there are nine precedents sustaining this view and only one in history of the Senate against it.

A large number of bills and memorials were presented, among them, a bill by Booth authorizing the Secretary of Interior to declare Railroad grants forfeited in certain cases. Davis, of West Virginia, introduced a joint resolution for a special committee to consider and report as to the best means of promoting agriculture.

The select committee to inquire into the alleged frauds in the late election. Mr. Wallace, the chairman will hold a meeting to-morrow to examine the witnesses including the Ex-Secretary of the Senate Gosham on the subject of assessments for the political purposes one of the points embraced in the resolution under which the so-called Teller committee now re-organized with a Democratic majority which was appointed.

The Senate took up the resolution of Hoar declaring it unconstitutional and revolutionary as Democratic programme to legislation, it was announced by Beck at the close of the late Congress. Hoar spoke at some length on this subject deprecating in emphatic terms the course of legislation thus prefigured and saying that the dominant power ought to effect by simple process what could be done only by the change of the constitution of the United States altering the present relations of three departments of the Government.

HOUSE.—Harris, of Virginia, asked leave to offer a resolution directing the committee on judiciary to inquire into the facts connected with the action of Alexander Reeves, Judge of the U. S. Court for the Western District of Virginia in interfering with the action of State Judges holding State courts in accordance with the laws of Virginia. Conger objected, Cox, of New York asked leave to offer a resolution for the appointment of a select committee on the census, declaration of law relating to Presidential elections, civil service reform and the yellow fever epidemic. Conger objected, stating he would object to the introduction of anything unless it had reference to appropriation bills. The House then at 12.40 adjourned.

Foreign Troubles.

LONDON, March 25.—The Times Paris despatch says: At a meeting of 2,900 spinners and weavers at Raven, it was decided to send a deputation to Paris to represent to the Government the destitution of working classes in consequence of the reduction of wages and in some cases complete stoppage of work. The Times Berlin correspondent telegraphs that subterranean telegraph in Germany is attaining vast dimensions. Reichstag on Monday voted 1,830,000 marks for further extensions.

A special despatch to the Standard Pesth says an affluent of Koros river has burst the dyke, and inundated a large territory. Devanya with 1200 inhabitants is threatened with ruin. Titel will scarcely escape the terrible disaster. The water is breaking over the dykes, and soldiers and laborers are at work strengthening them and are exhausted.

Destructive Fire in N. Y. City.

NEW YORK, March 25.—A fiire this morning in marble building, 173 and 80 Pearl street, entirely destroyed the stock of Stratton & Storme, manufacturers of tobacco and cigars, who occupied the third, fourth and fifth floors. They employed three hundred hands, mostly girls and women. Loss about $75,000. The second floor of 178, occupied by Discenberg & Son, varnishes. Damage $8,000. Wm. T. Coleman, commission merchant, occupied the second floor of 180—loss $10,000. The first floor was occupied by Carl Upman, wholesale dealer in leaf tobacco—losses $10,000 mostly by water. Damage to the building owned by Mrs. Stevens will not exceed $15,000.

Foreign.

LONDON, March, 25.—The British Government has accepted the tender of the Eastern Telegraph Company for the laying of submarine cable to South Africa. The route is by the way of Aden, Zanzibar, Mazambique, Deloga a bay and Natal. It will connect with the whole of the eastern system of telegraphy extending to India, China and Australia.

The Times Berlin correspondent says great satisfaction is everywhere expressed at the cordial reception of General Chansey the new French minister to Russia, by official circles when he was passing through Berlin en route to St. Petersburg.

How Much Will Sherman Call For?

Washington Post 25th.

The April settlements with the Government on account of subscriptions to the four per cent. bonds will aggregate $150.000.000, and all of this amount which the banks cannot meet with called bonds must be paid in cash. This balance will amount to something between $25,000,000 and $50,000, and has caused some anxiety on the part of the bankers to know how much John Sherman intends to call for. He accordingly makes the very liberal reply in a circular letter that he will only call for the money as he wants it, and will do nothing to disturb the market. Whether the Government may safely permit its funds to remain in the possession of the banks is a grave question, but there can be no doubt that some of these banks have found the double interest which they draw on bonds not unprofitable to themselves and very costly to the public Treasury. It is a source of some satisfaction, however, to know that Senator Saulsbury's resolution, calling for the true inwardness of this tacit bargain between Sherman and his syndicate, stands a good chance of receiving early and favorable action.

WINES blackberry and ginger brandry at Watson's also the best whiskies.

Mrs. Oliver.

Chicago Times.

Mrs. Oliver is not a bad looking woman. Her hair is thick and brown, with no traces of gray. Her face is red and full, her eyes bright and snappy and the figure buxom—just the one to capture an old gentleman who imagined he was yet something of a beau.

IT'S HONEST PURPOSE.

Hillboro Recorder,

Whatever its shortcomings, there was honest purpose to relieve the people, and, as far as consistent with the principle of economy, to advance the interests of the whole State. Hence while there were many bold strokes in the cause of retrenchment, there was more practical good done for internal improvement than has been accomplished in any one session of the General Assembly. And that without cost to the people, or single appropriation except in the instance of the Western Road, where fifty thousand dollars was appropriated to save a road in which the State owned eleven fifteenths from sale under execution.

Reading off a Lawyer.

Rufus Chote, in an important marine assault and battery-at-sea case had Dick Barton chief mate of the clipper ship Challenge, on the stand and badgered him so about an hour, that at last Dick got his salt water up and hauled by the wind to bring up the the keen Boston lawyer under his batteries:

At the begining of his testimony, Dick had said that the night was as "dark as the devil; and raining like seven bells."

"Suddenly Mr. Choate asked him:

"Was there a moon that night?"

"Yes, sir."

"Ah, yes! A moon—"

"Yes, a full moon."

"Did you see it?"

"Not a mite."

"Then how do you know there was a moon?"

"Nautical almanac said so, and I'll believe that sooner than any lawyer in the world."

"What was the principal luminary that night, sir?"

"Binnacle lamp on board the Challenge."

"Ah, you are growing sharp, Mr. Barton."

"What in blazes have you been girdling me this hour for—to make me dull?"

"Be civil, sir. And now tell me in what latitude and longitude you crossed the equator?"

"Shiu, you're jokin?"

"No, sir! I am in earnest, and I desire you to answer me."

"I shan't."

"Ah—you refuse to answer, do you?"

"Yes—I can't."

"Indeed! You are the chief mate of a clipper ship, and unable to answer so simple a question?"

"Yes, 'tis the simplest question I ever was asked in my life. Why, I thought every fool of a lawyer knew there ain't no lattitude on the equator."

That shot floored Rufus Choate.

The Danger of Kerosene Lamps

In view of the fact that Kerosene oil is now so generally used for lights, especially since the rise in the price of gas, the following from a medical journal is particularly worthy of attention. A merchant returned home about 2 o'clock at night and found his wife lying on the bed groaning heavily, and unconscious. She was awaiting his return, and at last tired out, laid herself on the bed, after turning down the wick of a lighted kerosene lamp as low as possible without extinguishing it. In this position of the wick, if the oil is bad, a vapor mixed with an innumerable quantity of specks of sut diffuses itself through the apartment and so covers the eyes, nose and respiratory organs, that on falling asleep one runs the risk of suffocation. It is always advisable, therefore, in the use of kerosene lamps to allow the wick to burn brightly or extinguish it entirely.—Charlotte Observer.

Hints for Practical [illegible]

1st. In selecting a lamp, preference should always be given the lamp having the shallowest bowl, as the oil will feed more readily to the burner through a short distance.

2d. To secure the perfect use or consumption of all the oil passing though the wick, and at the same time to avoid smoke, a tall chimney is indispensible to insure a proper draft and flow of oxygen to the flame. If the chimney is too short or draft holes at the bottom clogged, a portion of the oil will be lost, passing off unconsumed.

3rd. A wick well adapted for feeding oil should pass freely through the tube, and must not be too closely woven.

4th. Use Pratt's Astral Oil, warranted safe under all circumstances, is free from smell or smoke and burns in any lamp.

A NEW HYMN BOOK.—We have examined the Hymn-Book recently issued, entitled "Calvary Selection of Spiritual Songs," and are pleased with the refreshing variety of hymns, and the carefully studied adaptation of the same to the tunes. It meets a long-felt want in the churches, viz., a book that shall be equally good for choir use or congregational praise. The general appearance of the book is neat, the music distinctly printed, and the arrangement of hymns and subject of hymns unusually fine, quite out of the ordinary routine. The Celebrated Seven Spring Iron and Alum Mass

This is decidedly the most useful, besides being the most efficient Family Medicine ever placed within the reach of any people. Its reputation extends far and wide, and its great popularity is due entirely to its own merits. For relieving Sick and Nervous Headache it may be truly said, to have no equal. Dyspeptics find it just the remedy for their troubles. Mothers and daughters have long since discovered in its use a "panacea" for their worst ills; and now we have the testimonies of two eminent ministers of the gospel, from Southern cities, setting forth its specific effects in other more dreaded and troublesome diseases.

Rev. John F. Mayne, Theological Seminary, Columbia, S. C., writes: "Am afflicted with that terrible disease, 'Diabetis;' am using the 'Seven Springs Mass' with considerable degree of relief; is the only remedy I have yet found to suit my case; want to continue its use until a cure is effected if possible. Send worth of the enclosed P. O. order immediately.

Our country is getting to be fearfully alarming, the average of life being lessened every year, without any reasonable cause, death resulting generally from the most insignificant origin. At this season of the year especially, a cold is such a common thing that in the hurry of every day life we are apt to overlook the dangers attending it and often find too late that a fever or lung trouble has already set in. Thousands lose their lives in this way every winter, while had Boschee's German Syrup been taken, a cure would have resulted, and a large bill from a doctor been avoided. For all diseases of the throat and lungs, Boschee's German Syrup has proven itself to be the greatest discovery of its kind in medicine. Every Druggist in this country will tell you of its wonderful effect. Over 950,000 bottles sold last year without a single failure known.

And only ask for No. 10,
Kept by the most ingenious of men,
And when his friends by chance drop in
Then forth he comes, Lord what a grin,
And to their wondering eyes displays
Such heaps of brackets and window shades.
His pictures are exposed to public view
And a variety of cord to suspend them too,
His looking glasses and toilet cases
Will help adornyour forms and faces;
Picture frames and mouldings too
In great variety, black, brown and blue.
His window cornices and lambrequins fine, will make your rooms and parlor shine.

THE SOUTHERN STUDENTS' HAND-BOOK.—This contribution to our School Literature differs from all the so called "Southern Speakers" heretofore printed, in this:—that its matter is exclusivety of Southern origin. But it makes no attempt at a complete survey of Southern oratory and literature, its chief aim being to represent, as fully as circumstances permit, the "New South" in oratory, dialectic, poetry and general literature, and omitting the hackneyed pieces which for more than half a century have done duty in all the Readers and Speakers in the land, as representative of the "Old South," thus presenting to our Schools a fresh and interesting compilation, illustrative of Southern life, sentiment and thought in their best phases, during the exciting period through which the States have recently passed. REMARKABLE cure of an Inflamed tear-duct or passage to the eye, without an operation.—Mrs. Gibson, who has a large and extensive confectionery and candy store at No. 25 East 42d Street, near the Grand Central Depot, was about to have a silver tube inserted in the tear passage of her left eye. The enlargement and inflamation were very great. Before submitting to the operation, tried Dr. Gil s' Liniment, rubbed in carefully over the inflamed duct. The inflamation disappeared the passage became clear, and was, through its power able to do without a surgical operation. Also took the Liniment internally, a teaspoonful three times a day, in a wine glass of water. Sold by all druggists.

A Remedy that has been Remedied.

The invincible repugnance felt by almost every one to the smell and flavor of Cod Liver Oil, has prevented tens of thousands of the victims of debility, from reaping the benefits of its peculiar healing and nutritive properties. The almost hopeless consumptive, the martyr to Rheumatism, the barely living shadow of men, women and children that emerge from the clutches of malarial fevers, all of these know, or at least their doctors know, that of all discovered remedies, this Oil is the best, and often the only one that will build up their wasted bodies, and and restore the shattered nerves, and far more effective than the Oil by itself is Scott's Emuls on of it, with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. This is the finest and most natural food and medicine in the world, and wholly deprived of its disagreeable qualities. Sold by Wm. Simpson, Druggist.

FROM A PROMINENT VETERINARY SURGEON.

Mr. Wm. M. GILES, Chemist, Sir: I have practiced extensively in Europe and America, and your new discovery, Liniment Iodide of Ammonia, surpasses anything I ever used for splints, strains, lameness in the limbs or shoulders, weakness across the kidneys, wind galls, and hard, bony swellings on the joints. It is truly marvelous.

Yours very truly,
RALPH OGLE,
Veterinary Surgeon, 330 W. 25th St., N. Y.
